

Out of this world Answering Service.

COLORING BOOK

Helping small business owners everywhere :)

Once upon a time, in a land not so far away, a busy small business owner needed help answering calls so she could rest for a day. She contacted an answering service to handle her phones, and found a company more skilled than Black Belt Ninjas flying drones. With out of this world support and phone etiquette to impress a queen, Specialty Answering Service was the business owner's dream!

Hi! This book belongs to:

-----
-----

and this is how I look →

Answering service with a smile

The small business owner, her name was Sue, loved SAS so much and her customers did too!
They never had to wait long for someone to respond, because their virtual receptionists always go above and beyond.

Messages at the speed of light

The messages were sent fast, with no hiccups in sight, and Sue was working better, and resting well at night. Whenever her customers needed help, an SAS superstar was always there, which made her customers feel warm and fuzzy, like a soft teddy bear.

The universe was buzzing

The universe was buzzing with news of her success, and all the local business owners were super impressed. They wanted to know how she was capturing leads, and she told them how Specialty Answering Service was filling her needs.

Help for a friend

Sue also had a friend who sold balloons in the park, but with no answering service to help him, his customer service looked stark. Sue told him about SAS, her new business friend, and he knew his customer support would be on the mend.

So nice to meet you

He jumped on his rocket ship and zoomed through space, so that he could sign-up with Specialty Answering Service post haste. He was so happy when he forwarded his calls to SAS because his competition would quickly be outpaced.

Business is booming

It wasn't long before all small business owners jumped on the wagon, and gone were the days where business was draggin'. Now everyone could sleep easy at night, knowing that their customers were being treated just right ~ (even at 4 am)!

1006 9th Avenue, King of Prussia PA 19406

1-888-532-4794

specialtyansweringservice.net